++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Dry start today but rain arriving from south.

Today:
Largely dry at first with some hazy sunshine, especially in the north. However, cloud and rain will move across the region from the south throughout the day. Feeling a touch cooler than Sunday with light winds. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tonight:
Rain in the south clearing through the evening to leave a dry night. Relatively cloudy, but the risk of fog and localised frost forming under any cloud breaks. Feeling chilly. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Tuesday:
Any fog slow to clear on Tuesday morning. A cloudy day follows with the occasional bright spell but staying largely dry. Turning breezier through the afternoon. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Mild and largely cloudy throughout the week. Generally dry but the cloud thick enough to produce some patchy drizzle. Continued risk of morning fog developing under any cloud breaks.
